One Day Study Tour To Chandpur For Cryptogamic Flora investigation

One day study tour of B.Sc. Semester- I was organized on 12th November, 2022 under the supervision of Dr. J. V. Gadpayale to Chandpur Green Valley. In the present study tour, fifty six (56) students of B.Sc. Semester- Ist were participated. Students visited different sites of Chandpur Green Valley which is situated in the Satpura ranges of mountain. During visit students explored cryptogamic flora of Bryophyte of division Hepaticopsida- Riccia, Torgenia, Musci- Funaria , Polyticum, Minum and Pteridophyte members like Adiantum Selaginella , Actinopteris, Marsilea, and others . In addition to these, students were also studied the Angiospermic vegetation at different habitat like mesophyte, hydrophyte growing in different environmental conditions.

While exploring the plants on the earth students also studied different ecological adaptation of plants growing on the mountain range. Dr. J. V Gadpayale taught the students about ecological balance in the forest i.e., how plants and animal balancing the environment in nature. During this study tour students understand how different groups of plants growing in the natural habitat and their relation amongst them. Students also studied plants life cycle on the basis of remnant of the plants parts present on the ground. Students also studied the reproductive behaviors of many Angiospermic, Pteridophytic and Bryophytic plants group.

During plant exploration student enjoyed a lot the beauty of nature in the forest. At last students expressed their views on organization of study tour. On this occasion students said that they enriched their knowledge practically as it was earlier known only by books and by pictures. Students requested the teacher to organize such study tour in near future so that they will enrich their knowledge more and more. On behalf of Botany department, Dr. K.N. Sathawane extended vote of thanks to all the participating students, Dr. J.V. Gadpayale for his efforts and the Principal of college for necessary help provided at different levels for the successful organization of study tour.
